

KIRBY TO ALSO MAKE AN APPEAL

Lexington, Sept. 29.—Notice has been served upon Solicitor T. G. Callison by A. D. Martin, appointed by the court to defend S. J. Kirby, one of the three Columbians convicted at the recent term of the court of general sessions of the murder of William Brazell, Columbia taxi driver, that Kirby's case will be appealed to the state supreme court. This appeal acts as an automatic stay of execution and Kirby, who has been held in the death cell at the state penitentiary since his conviction, will not die October 21, as provided in the sentence imposed by Judge Sease, instead getting a new lease on life until the case can be heard by the supreme court.

The Jesse Gappins case has already been appealed to the supreme court and C. O. Fox remains as the only member of the trio scheduled to die October 21.

Notice of the appeal of the Kirby case was served upon Solicitor Callison both by mail and in person, the notice being stuck under the door of the solicitor's office during his absence from Lexington. The notices were dated September 26 and therefore, Solicitor Callison says, will fall within the time limit allowed by law in which the appeal can be made. Mr. Martin has yet to prepare his appeal, but he announced last night, an effort will be made to prove that Kirby is mentally deranged and therefore not responsible for his crime. Mrs. S. J. Kirby, the prisoner's wife, made a personal appeal to Gov. Robert A. Cooper the day following the trial, claiming that her husband was mentally deranged, due to a blow on the head and prolonged illness. Kirby, his wife told the governor, now wears a silver plate in his skull. This personal plea, however, was disregarded by the chief executive.

Kirby, the first of the trio to face trial, admitted on the stand that he had assisted Jesse Gappins in holding young Brazell while C. O. Fox calmly proceeded to stab the taxi driver to death. Kirby also admitted that he had bought the blackjack which was broken over the driver's head by Fox. Kirby, according to the testimony of Gappins and Fox, was the ring leader in the automobile stealing plot, which resulted in the killing of Brazell.

The supreme court opens its fall session in October and it is not probable that either the Kirby or Gappins appeals will be heard at that time, although it is possible that the cases may be heard by mutual consent. Even should the case be heard at the fall session of the supreme court a decision would hardly be handed down before Christmas as the court will be in session until after Thanksgiving.

SENATE TO SOON RATIFY TREATIES

Washington, Sept. 29.—Ratification by the senate in a fortnight of the administration's peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary loomed as a prospect tonight after Republican and Democratic leaders during the day had discussed a proposed unanimous consent agreement drafted by Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, to take the final vote October 14 or 15. Both expressed hopes of obtaining a formal order of the senate tomorrow providing for such a program and all factions expressed the opinion that the agreement would be reached.

Announcement of the negotiations was made in the senate late today by Senator Lodge, and with the discussion showing evidences of success the Republicans dropped their plan for a session tonight. Senator Lodge intimated, however, that should the agreement be blocked, he would return to the night session drive for ratification. Mr. Lodge said he had "every reasonable hope" of reaching an agreement and Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, also said an agreement had been "practically reached" and was ready for consummation tomorrow.

Involved in the program is a proposal that should any senator desire to debate the treaties the tax revision bill would be laid aside temporarily. It is expected, however, that the measure actually will be before the senate most of next week, with the following week, preceding the date for voting, largely devoted to the treaties. The movement for a voting agreement developed today in a conference of Democratic senators who declared unanimously against the Republican plan for night sessions and authorized overtures by Senator Underwood to the Republican for a voting agreement. The Democrats reaffirmed their stand against making ratification a party question and left each senator free to vote as he shall determine.

In the effort to agree upon a date for voting on ratification Chairman Penrose of the finance committee in charge of the tax bill agreed to give way to the treaties, stating he believed it would operate actually to expedite his measure.

Most Expensive Large City in Italy

Rome, Sept. 10.—Rome is still the most expensive large city in Italy. According to the latest figures published on the cost of living, the Eternal City is 19 percent dearer than it was in 1920. This, however, is a diminution of the cost of living during the past months when, during March, the cost of living soared as much as 30 percent higher than last year.

The other expensive cities are Milan, Florence and Turin, which are today about 18 percent over the 1920 figures. Venice and Trieste are but eight percent over the figures of last year.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Mullins, Sept. 29.—The body of a well dressed young man apparently about 30 years old was found near the Atlantic Coast Line trestle on the west side of the Pee Dee river at an early hour this morning. The only identification found on the young man was the name, Creedle, sewed in the inside of the coat pocket. An envelope addressed to R. C. Applewhite, Delco, N. C., was also found on the body.

The dead man had red hair, brown eyes and a fair complexion, good teeth weighed about 135 pounds and was dressed in blue serge suit with overalls. The skull was crushed and the left arm broken just below the shoulder. The body was carried to a Dillon undertaker where it has been embalmed and is now being held for identification. If no one is found to identify the dead man the body will be turned over to the Atlantic Coast Line railroad tomorrow for disposition.

The verdict of the coroner's jury investigating the young man's death was to the effect that the deceased apparently came to his death by being struck by the train.

Recklessness as Popular as Autos

Boston, Sept. 28.—Care has become out of fashion as much as a bicycle, while recklessness is as popular as an automobile. Ida M. Tarbell of New York told the delegates to the National safety Council here tonight. "I am not here to talk about the new area of work which women in the war added to that already held," Miss Tarbell said, "but rather that it consider the possibility of rallying to the work of the Council a great body women entirely outside of industry itself but responsive to appeals for public service, and many of them organized in such a way as to focus power and influence quickly on tasks which appeal to their imaginations and to their hearts."

"The psychological effect of the present indifference to safety in our streets and on our highways cannot be ignored by industry. The wanton recklessness of the road dulls the attention and interest of the industrial worker, and a precedent of 'taking a chance'—as becomes as out of fashion as a bicycle—recklessness as popular as an automobile. That is, public safety is the direct concern of Industrial Safety. The latter cannot accomplish its ends as long as the mental attitude it needs for its work is constantly weakened by wanton indifference to the former."

"The woman power of the country must be enlisted. I do not know a finer job than to go after the women, particularly organized women. 'I understand the feelings of certain women that a women in industry section is what you may call a throw-back, that women should be taken into the safety council not as women at all, but as industrial workers, regardless of sex. We have a long way to go socially, and industrially in this world before women will cease to be differentiated from men in all activities. Mother Nature will have to undo her work entirely before there will be no special problems connected with women wherever you meet them."

"It is the business of this section to handle whatever there is special in the problem, whether it is the best method of getting the obstinate girl at a dangerous machine to wear her cap, or having persuaded her to wear it, to keep her bangs tucked in; or whether it is the big and definite problem that I am suggesting, enlisting the women of the country, organized and unorganized, in a public safety campaign."

"It is something of a job, and if it had not been for our experience with women's organizations in the war I should not feel so hopeful about it. That experience convinced me that the woman power of the country can be mobilized for permanent safety work, if this section will lead the way."

"Suppose that this section was able to rally in each state to work of industrial and public safety all of the great women's organized associations, to persuade them to take up this work as a permanent interest, what a power we would have behind the National Safety Council! Properly put to them, they would rise to it like a fish to a fly. It is their kind of thing. 'If this Council is going into public safety work as I most certainly believe it is its duty to do, passing on to the public its splendid experience and achievement, it is going to need the women. And it ought to be the business of this section to help capture them for this enterprise.'"

Reichstag Ratifies Treaty

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The reichstag passed a bill ratifying the treaty with the United States, only the Communists voting against it.

MANY ISSUES ARE DISCUSSED

Geneva, Sept. 29.—The assembly introduced an important innovation in the work of the league of nations today by deciding to ask the delegates to solicit from their different governments' full powers to sign during the present session the conventions for the repression of the white slave traffic. The French delegation held this was equivalent to the negotiations for the repression of the white slave traffic. The French delegation held this was equivalent to the negotiation of international treaties by the league, pointing out the danger of such procedure and insisting that the governments ought to be allowed at least two or three months in which to study the new conventions.

A. J. Balfour, Great Britain, and M. Hanotaux, France, engaged in an oratorical duel which the British delegate, who was in favor of the action taken, won. Only 25 votes, however, voted in the affirmative, the other 26 states in the league abstaining or not being represented.

The committee on interior organization of the league of nations has now virtually agreed upon an increase in the number of members of the council of the league to ten, of whom five shall be permanent members and five non-permanent. It is understood here that Great Britain proposes, as a condition to its consent that Spain shall be chosen as the fifth permanent member with Great Britain, France and Italy and Spain.

The Latin American delegations were not satisfied to have a separate Western hemisphere left out of a permanent member. The delegates who have advocated the election of Spain have offered the South Americans two non-permanent seats to Chile and Brazil. The council's vote, as it now stands, calls for the reelection of China, Belgium and Brazil as non-permanent members, with the fourth seat to go to the little states and the fifth to Chile.

Difficult to Teach Old Dog New Tricks

Boston, Sept. 30.—It is difficult at times to reconcile the old dog of safety first and service afterward with the same dog of Railroad Trainman of Cleveland told the delegates at the National Safety Council here today.

"It is difficult to teach an old dog new tricks," he said, "you know as well as I know that a switchman, brakeman or conductor who takes his time is not regarded as an efficient employee. You know also that it means time to hold up switching in these days when so many cars are handled at one time. You also know that railroad impatience will not stand for much of what seems even in this day of 'safety first and service afterward' to be unnecessary delay. You know also that every train and yard man starts to work with the idea of getting done as soon as he possibly can firmly fixed in his mind. He also knows that every man on the job, from the president down to the engine foreman, expects him to keep that in mind until he is through. It is difficult at times to reconcile the thought of safety first and hit the ball at the same time."

"It will take another generation to change this condition of mind. Danger, disability and death always were supposed to go hand in hand with a job in train or yard service. 'It must be our united work to overcome the traditions of all our railroad years, to have our railway men realize that the railroads are in earnest in trying to save their men, and to get down under the hides of the men and their immediate superiors with the fact that safety means what it says and that unnecessary injuries and death will mean discipline for the personal cause of either, if he can be reached.'"

ABOUT FOUR MILLION IDLE

Washington, Sept. 29.—Ground work for an emergency program to meet the needs of the country's involuntary idle, found to number between 3,700,000 and 4,000,000, exclusive of agricultural, was completed today by the national conference on unemployment. Reports of most of the committees were completed and turned over to the steering committee, which is to weld the various recommendations into one definite whole for action by the full conference when it reconvenes tomorrow afternoon. Quick action upon the general emergency scheme is expected by the conferees.

Adoption of a final report by the committee on emergency measures by manufacturers was announced late today. The report which is said to contain the core of the unemployment situation because of the affect of the manufacturers upon economic conditions generally is understood to recommend the use of rotation of labor, the shortened week, partial employment, completion of repair and clean up as some of the means of increasing employment.

The committee is said to favor an appeal to the patriot cooperation of producers, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in passing along rapidly any price changes occurring in order to hasten business revival.

Recommendations of the committee were understood to regard the construction problem in a great measure as one for local action because of the different factors existing in various localities.

Liberty for All

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Sept. 10.—Liberty of thought and free exercise of all forms of worship and religion are to be recognized by the Constitution of the new Central American Federation, which is being discussed in the Constituent Assembly meeting here. The provision was adopted after a fierce contention led by representatives of the Catholic clergy of Guatemala, Salvador and Honduras (The Federation is composed of those three countries.)

The new constitution proclaims advanced principles. It declares the inviolability of the human life. This has been a tendency of the Latin-American republics, death penalty having been abolished in the laws of Brazil, Costa Rica, Colombia, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Uruguay and Venezuela. Liberty of thought and conscience is guaranteed. There can be no legislation on religious matters and all forms of worship not opposed to morals, god customs and public orders are allowed. Religious associations which compel a person to an unconditional obedience or establish confinement in cloister are prohibited. A religious act cannot be presented to prove the civil status of a man. This provision is meant to do away with the ancient principle of Spanish legislation which recognized the religious certification of birth, marriage, or death as valid and good as the state certifications.

Kansas Coal Miners Are Still Out

Pittsburgh, Kansas, Sept. 30.—All the Kansas district coal mines are idle coincident with the appearance at Columbus, Kansas, of Alexander Howat and August Dorchy, the union president and the vice president to begin serving a sentence of six months for calling a strike in February, according to the reports to the operators Association headquarters.

GRAND GOBLIN TELLS OF KLAN

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 29.—There are approximately 700,000 members of the Ku Klux Klan in the United States, Charles W. Love of Indianapolis, grand goblin of the organization with jurisdiction over Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia, told County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton and Chief of Police Frank W. Smith today.

Love voluntarily appeared before Stanton and Smith after hearing that grand jury investigation of the Klan was to take place here.

Love was in conference with the officials for more than four hours, during which he explained the constitution of the order, how much various officials receive as commissions or initiation fees, which he called "donations," who is barred from the order or "disqualified," as he preferred to call it, and the information regarding membership. He promised to produce the books and records of the local branch tomorrow.

The membership roll is secret and is in Atlanta, Ga., the headquarters of the order, Love told his interrogators.

Both Prosecutor Stanton and Chief Smith questioned Love at length about night riding activities of the Ku Klux Klan and tax and feathering of the organization.

"Any members doing anything like that would not only be expelled from the order but would be handed over to the proper authorities," he replied.

There is no initiation fee, Love told Stanton. One of the requirements of membership, he said, is a donation of $10, which goes to a propagation fund.

The salary of Imperial Wizard Simmons, Love stated, is $100 a week. Klesgies, in charge of state subdivisions, get $3 for each member he secures, a king klesgie, in charge of the state, $1 on each member in his realm, and a grand goblin, of whom there are nine, receive 50 cents on each member in his domain.

Officers Get Liquor

Anderson, Sept. 28.—Examining a can in an automobile parked by the side of the road behind Orr cotton mill Tuesday afternoon led the officers to believe that whiskey had something to do with the car being there. So they continued their search into the woods and in a short time had uncovered 30 gallons of whiskey in two kegs. This was brought to the jail but the car was not confiscated as no liquor was found in it, and it was still there today. The owners, it is thought are afraid that the officers would be on duty and arrest them when they went for the car.

JURY TIED UP IN GOSNELL CASE

Pickens, S. C., Sept. 30.—The jury is out in the trial of Jake Gosnell. They retired shortly before midnight.

Pickens, Sept. 30.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning the jury in the case of Jake Gosnell, charged with the murder of Hendrix Rector, sheriff of Greenville county, had not reached a verdict after deliberating 11 hours and 30 minutes and strong indications were given that the case may result in a mistrial for the second time. Judge Memminger left the court house for his room at a local hotel about 1 o'clock after agreeing with Sheriff Roark that he would not be called after 1:30 o'clock even though the jury would reach a verdict. The court will reconvene at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and it is believed that Judge Memminger will recharge the jury and urge an agreement, in case the foreman reports at that hour that an agreement is not possible.

After deliberating nine hours the jury in the case of Jake Gosnell, charged with the murder of Hendrix Rector, sheriff of Greenville county, tonight about 11 o'clock asked that Judge Memminger charge them again as to the law on self-defense. After charging them fully on this subject Judge Memminger strongly urged the jury to do all possible to reach a verdict. The jury retired again shortly before midnight.

Death of Mrs. Frank Woodruff

News was received in Union this morning by Mrs. G. H. Oetzel announcing the death of Mrs. Frank Woodruff at her home in Sanford, Fla. She had been desperately ill for several days and the end was not unexpected.

Mrs. Woodruff is known to the Union people as Miss Mary Ransom, and her death brings sorrow to many hearts; she was married more than a year ago to Mr. Frank Woodruff of Sanford, Fla., and life was opening up before her with bright prospects. Not many months back they moved into their new home and bright, cherry letters came to South Carolina friends of this joy.

Mrs. Woodruff is survived by her husband and a little child a few days old.

She spent much of her time with Mrs. George Oetzel of this city, a life-long friend, and counted Union and the Seminary her home; her father was a missionary to India but she was educated at Due West College and taught in the Union graded schools several terms.

"Not now but in the coming years, it may be in that better land; We'll read the meaning of our tears, And then, oh then, we'll understand."

Rev. Craven left home yesterday, telling his family he was going to the Masonic orphanage on the outskirts of this city.
